Part 21: Certification Procedures for Products and Articles

Level 1: For anyone working in aviation

§ 21.75 Application.

Each applicant for a provisional type certificate, for an amendment thereto, or for a provisional amendment to a type certificate must apply to the FAA and provide the information required by this subpart.

§ 21.77 Duration.

- (a) Unless sooner surrendered, superseded, revoked, or otherwise terminated, provisional type certificates and amendments thereto are effective for the periods specified in this section.
- (b) A Class I provisional type certificate is effective for 24 months after the date of issue.
- (c) A Class II provisional type certificate is effective for twelve months after the date of issue.
- (d) An amendment to a Class I or Class II provisional type certificate is effective for the duration of the amended certificate.
- (e) A provisional amendment to a type certificate is effective for six months after its approval or until the amendment of the type certificate is approved, whichever is first.

Question 1: An applicant for a provisional type certificate must provide the information required for any type certificate.

A: True.

B: False. § 21.75 specifies the applicant must provide the information required by “this subpart,” which is specific to provisional type certificates.

Question 3: An amendment to a provisional type certificate re-starts the effective period of the amended certificate (12 months for Class II, 24 months for Class I).

A: True.

B: False. § 21.77(d) states an amendment is effective for the established duration of the amended certificate.

Question 2: Provisional type certificates are effective until surrendered, superseded, revoked, or otherwise terminated.

A: True.

B: False. § 21.77(a) states that unless terminated sooner, a provisional type certificate is effective for the periods specified in the remaining subparagraphs.

Question 4: A provisional amendment to a type certificate is effective for six months after its approval or until the amendment to the type certificate is approved, whichever is first.

A: True. See § 21.77(e).

B: False.
